Summary

Oversen is aimed at increasing quality of live of elderly people and minimizing stress or worries of their relatives, when they can check that everything is all right with their beloved seniors. Oversen is a complex solution based on indoor positioning system technology, smart wearables, and mobile and web application, that can be installed to every household (the only condition is an internet connection). The product uses the latest and most accurate technology based on Bluetooth. Oversen would also be a great opportunity for the company to enter new markets and establish international partnerships. The further product development and modification will be financed from revenues that Oversen will generate in operating years following the project implementation.
